Calling All Nature Photographers!

Webmaster. May 3, 2020 :

Evergreen Audubon is excited to announce that we're working on a wonderful new project! And, we want you to participate by sharing your favorite nature photographs with us. We will be looking for 24 photos – two for each month – taken in or near Evergreen – to be showcased in a perpetual nature calendar.

The calendar, designed to appeal to all ages, will highlight local flora and fauna and will include "nature prescriptions" for fun, educational or simply contemplative activities that our members and friends can enjoy in the great outdoors. Start taking those photos now and keep an eye out for submission details coming in a few months.

Photos should be taken within the Evergreen Audubon boundaries. For more information, contact: Lisa Wald.
